Life Awakening, formerly called Wellspring Garden Ministries

After much procrastination, in September 2010 I closed my business. My next step was not clear; the fear of not knowing what to do overwhelmed me as I did not want to go back to the business sector. So I prayed and waited to hear God's voice. I then read about child abuse, self abuse and then a wonderful book about volunteering. It was a true story about a woman moved by God to do volunteer work. It changed her and her husband and the people she helped. As I read, I was moved to tears, knowing that God was calling me to do the same. I worried about finances but God spoke clearly and promised to take care of me. So I asked God, "where do you want me to go?" I then met Elizabeth Carver in an ALPHA meeting at church. As she talked about Life Awakening, God spoke to my spirit and said "there you go." So here I am at Life Awakening doing administrative work and ministering to the women. We thereafter discovered that Elizabeth was sitting at the wrong table when we met. Isn't it funny how God has the plan and not us. Although stretching me, God has been faithful in everything including my finances. Every day I have seen him do awesome things, including healing me of past childhood experiences while using me to help others. Only God can do that! I look forward to my days knowing He has it all under control. I just need to be ready and willing to allow Him to do His work! Where might God want you to volunteer?

FROM THE DIRECTOR'S DESK... On Wednesday, January 12, two ladies, seasoned in prophetic ministry, prophesied over me declaring that my healing ministry would be expanding into the physical realm. By 10:00 the next evening, I lost vision in my left eye, due to retinal and macular detachments and two big holes in my retina. This required a meticulous seven hour surgery. According to the medical field, I have a six to nine month journey before knowing how much vision I may regain due to the macular detaching. As I was waking up two mornings after surgery, Holy Spirit quietly but profoundly told me that my "healing will be found in the Gospel." So, I'm desperately hungry for and taking in Jesus' Kingdom teaching in the Gospels. It is amazing what "desperation" ushers in because as much as I do not like this, I have been entering into Kingdom mindset like never before, trusting Holy Spirit for the manifestation of healing in God's timing! I "have my moments," but I have come to a place of anticipation to see how God's Kingdom will be advanced through this experience. Many people have been standing on the Gospel with me, believing for complete, miraculous healing! Because Kingdom living is about "community," will you please join those people who are already standing on the Gospel with me for complete, miraculous healing?

The enemy has been messing with my vision, but the vision of Life Awakening continues to move forward in the power of Holy Spirit! I hope to see you (with two eyes) at our upcoming Annual Dinner, celebrating the ten year anniversary of Life Awakening, on Friday, April 8. You will hear more about "The Good News, the Gospel of Jesus Christ!" — Linda S. Ingham
